DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 10,20-26,28-29,34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In these claims, phrases that begin with 'preferably' and 'in particular' are indefinite as it is not clear what is being positively claimed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Clark in view of either Somervuori or Hulit et al. Clark discloses the basic process for refining except for the use of porous rolls to aid in dewatering. Both secondary references show a similar process including the use of porous rolls. In order to aid in the dewatering step, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Clark by using porous rolls, taught to be desirable by both secondary references. The remaining limitations of these claims would have been obvious design choices only. For example, the material forming the porous roll would have been obvious once the use of a porous roll was known. Also, the use of bars on a roll to aid in dewatering is well known in the art and of no patentable merit. The speeds of the rolls would depend on several factors such as desired results and material being treated.
